

MORAL SUASION IS A FAILURE

New York School Board to Consider Return to Corporal Punishment Methods.

New York, Sept. 27.—The end of education has ordered an investigation to determine whether the abolition of corporal punishment has been beneficial or detrimental to the school system. The inquiry was conducted by a special committee of members to be appointed by President Whitman and the school board. The committee will report on the subject by the end of the month. Moral suasion and the use of the cane have been the two principal methods of discipline in the schools for many years.

In the opinion of several school commissioners it has proved utterly ineffective to maintain order and discipline. The principal use of the cane, it is contended, has been to frighten the pupils into obedience, rather than to teach them the difference between right and wrong. The school board has decided to investigate the matter, and the results of the investigation will be reported to the board by the end of the month.

From Day to Day

FROM THE IRREPRESSIBLE KHAN

Oh, the leaves turn red in my old Canuck home, And the woods and the groves are
And the Great Bear shines in a pure And purple dome
Over my old Canuck home, far away.

Way up north, my lady,
Tonight are break of day,
The Jack Frost will be tappin' on the
Of my old Canuck home, far away.

I'm away down south where the
The sweet magnolia bloom,
And they make all their road out of But homewards I can and my heart is Full of gloom.

For my old Canuck home far away,
So I must weep, my lady,
So here I'll no longer stay,
When old Jack Frost is a tappin' on The door.

Of my old Canuck home, far away,
I'd like to gather beech nuts and Share 'em with a cousin,
An' 'skin some black squirrels fat
At close of day,
An' sit 'em under and jake 'neath
The calm September moon.

In my old Canuck home far away,
It's the best, they say, my lady,
All hearts are light and gay,
When old Jack Frost comes tappin'
At the door.

Of my old Canuck home far away,
I've seen the pine beckon, I've heard
The cedar call,
So here I'll no longer stay,
And I'll reach the Lord's land when The leaves begin to fall.

In my old Canuck home far away,
So we're no more, my lady,
Good-bye to you, I say,
For old Jack Frost is a tappin' on
The door.

Of my old Canuck home far away,
—The Khan.

SOCIAL.

On August 27 in the parish church of Pyraque, France, was celebrated the marriage of Mr. Edmond Masson, Montreal, to Miss Gracie de Pyraque.
Miss Rene Masson was a witness to the ceremony.

A pretty wedding took place recently in St. George's church, Montreal, when Miss Alice Lily Longworth, eldest daughter of Mr. Harry Leigh Longworth, of St. George's, was married to Mr. Alexander Lee, eldest son of Mr. Henry Lee, of Beattie, England. The bride, who was given away by Mr. Cook, of Highland, was gowned in white silk and wore an Irish lace veil. Miss H. Cater, of Birmingham, Cook, of Liverpool, England, acted as best man. After the ceremony a reception was held at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Cook, Highland.

morning for the coast and will attend the Victoria fair before their return.

THE WONDER-HOUR OF HOME

EVENINGS

Irresistibly with the vision of real-dramatic films coloring in the pensions and outcountryside down the Sa-katchewan comes the desire for the home with the wood of our native forest acreage there, with the mountains drawn and the woods shut out, and only the choicest of friends and the haphest of booklets to make the wonder-hour of the night complete.

This is one of the books of Parolle left after the angel with the flaming sword shut paradise man out of the Garden. Later on when the white ve-ner has come down about us, a touch of probability in the books is quite acceptable, but for the present there is a charm in the vision of the passing show of the new books, sparkling and bright however ephemeral they may be.

The Newest Books

Among the new English novels is a book by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle entitled "Through the Magic Door," a volume illustrated with sixteen pictures, published by Smith Elder. The same firm is also preparing a book of short stories drawn from his own fancies by Stanley Weisman, entitled "Laid up in Lavender." Both of these books promise something more than being merely readable.

E. Nesbit, who in private life is Mrs.
Hewitt Baird, is completing a novel dealing with life among the London art students. Fisher Unwin also will publish this winter her story for children, "The Ratched Castle," which has been running in the Strand to reflect from her various books of verse dealing with the legends of the saints and religious subjects generally and to publish them as a book this year. Several of the Christmas numbers will contain short stories by this writer.

The Wicked, beautiful Helen, Christie Meredith is at present at work on a novel entitled "The Ken of Helen," which she hopes to have ready for publication next spring. The central idea, she says, is that of a woman as a sentimental being. It is a romantic story. It is assumed that Helen is the type of a woman which is constantly recurring in every age and that domestic and other troubles which she encounters are due to her own will and are compensated for by her value as an inspiration.

The story of a beautiful Duchess sold by Horace Blackley in a volume titled "The Duchess," which concerns the famous Elizabeth Gunning, the beauty of her day even beside her sister, who was one of the best types of the lady of quality in the Georgian era, and her life embraces a period of wonderful change.

STEWART-JAMIESON NUPTIALS.

These took place at Calgary on Wednesday, Sept. 25, the marriage of Mr.
Stewart, formerly of Prince Edward Island, to Miss Ruby Jamieson, eldest daughter of R. R. Jamieson, Esq., general superintendent of the C. P.
R. The ceremony, which took place at the residence of the bride's parents, was performed by Rev. A. D. McDonald, M. A., vicar of the diocese. Only immediate relatives and friends of the bride couple were present. The bride was accompanied by her father, who stood in a gown of white silk crinoline over tulle, trimmed with French lace, and carried a shower bouquet of white roses and lilies of the valley.
The wedding march, "Swiss Remembrance," was played by Mr. Frank Wright, organist of Knox church.
Most beautiful and costly gifts were received by the young couple, who left on their honeymoon on Saturday's trip to the coast. The young couple travelled in the superlatively private car.

PALMER-IRWIN.

Grace church, Ottawa, was the scene of a large and fashionable wedding, recently, when Miss Isabel Gibby Hamilton Irwin, daughter of Lt.
Col. Irwin, was married to Capt. Alan Louis Palmer, of Ottawa. The bride wore an exquisite gown of ivory white liberty satin with flowers of Carthagenian lace. She was attended by her cousin, Miss Jessie Hamilton, of Quebec, as maid of honor and by four bridesmaids, Miss Elsie Cobb, Miss Helen Smith, Miss Louise Gemmell and Miss Palmer. The room was made of chiffon broadcloth. Capt. Howard, of Quebec, the groom's best man, and Mr. J. H. Macdonald, of Kingston, the bride's best man. The numerous gifts received by the bride included some beautiful jewelry. The bride's bridesmaids were Miss Elsie Cobb, Miss Helen Smith, Miss Louise
